OBJECTIVE: To make the best possible poker hand out of five cards. If you feel your hand is higher than the dealer's you will make an additional bet. If your hand is higher, you win.

RULES OF THE GAME:

To start, place a bet in the box called "Ante."

You will then be dealt 5 cards. The dealer will also have 5 cards, one of which will be turned face up.

Look at your cards.

If you choose to fold, you lose your Ante. If you play, you must bet double your Ante in the box labeled "Bet."

The dealer will then expose their cards.

The dealer must have Ace/King or higher to play. If dealer does not have Ace/King or higher, the players win even money for their Ante.

If the dealer plays with Ace/King or higher and beats the player's hand, the dealer then collects the Ante and the Bet.

If the player beats the dealer, the player gets odds on their winning main bet and even money on the Ante.
